

Timo Bollerhey

Chief Executive Officer

HINT.CO GmbH

Timo Bollerhey is the Chief Executive Officer of HINT.CO GmbH, an H2Global Stiftung company.

He is an investment and financial markets expert with more than 20 years of experience, especially in emerging markets. Before initiating and designing H2Global, he worked as director for the German Development Cooperation (GIZ) in Brazil, focusing on blended finance approaches and the mobilization of institutional investors towards alternative assets.

Prior to this, he served as Division Manager at the AfDB (African Development Bank) to foster the collaboration and co-financing with strategic private and public-sector partners. Between 2011 and 2016, Timo was director of business development at Allianz Global Investors where he oversaw the client coverage and advisory for African institutional investors. Prior to this he was head of financial institutions and sovereigns for Africa and the Middle East at Raiffeisen Bank International in Vienna and served as Chief Representative Officer Sub-Sahara Africa for UniCredit Group in Johannesburg.

Timo has designed the H2Global concept and initiated H2Global together with Markus Exenberger.