

Elisabeth Sterner

Project Manager

H2Global Stiftung

Elisabeth Sterner is a Project Manager at H2Global Stiftung. Among other tasks, she is responsible for the further development of the H2Global Stiftung and its activities.

Her field of expertise is industrial engineering and management (M.Sc.). Before joining H2Global in July 2022, Elisabeth Sterner worked as a Project Manager for a global player in the aviation industry, where she gained experience in managing large volume programs. In addition to her work, she also supported the market analysis of the German offtake market for green hydrogen and PtX products in early 2021 as part of the H2Global Phase II.
